“HIFI4ALL.DK” a Danish on-line magazine published a rave review of DIAMOND B-60 bookshelf speakers (10-2017).

Overall Impression

“The Taga Diamond B-60 is a stunningly beautiful speaker that delivers sound which match its beautiful look. But it is also a very direct sounding speaker, which gives a lot of fun in relation to which equipment it is paired with. And the speakers really liked the amplifier setup in our listening room, with the amp which costs almost four times more than them, so you can easily aim for front end equipment, far above the price point of the B-60.

It is also important that the signal source is completely free from distortions and artifacts, otherwise it will be mercilessly revealed. But if your your system is in the right league, you are rewarded with a great quality of sound. And I did not listen to single tracks from vinyl records during this test ... I listened the entire records to the end, and that does not happen every time when the equipment is under review!

The Taga Diamond B-60s provide a lot of technology and joy for the money, and it would be obvious with the "Best Buy" award which they were very close to get. But, on the other hand, they are a little too "selective" in terms of composition - and the price of - additional equipment, and that makes them a little special. But it does not alter the statement that you get a lot for the money here!”
