

“wstereo.pl” an on-line magazine published a very rave review of TAGA Harmony Platinum F-100 v.3 floorstanding speakers (07-2018).

Sound

“Taga Harmony Platinum F-100 v.3 are perfect speakers for a hot summer – this was my first thought after I connected them to my system and there was almost 30 degrees outside. Their sound is clear, light and crisp, full of verve and power. They do not make us fall asleep, do not wrap us in a warm quilt. They do not intend to be relaxing - just the opposite, they want to provide us with some adrenaline and to wake us up from the numbness.

*The malcontents will say that the speakers are not the most sophisticated in terms of timbre and information details but those who prefer speed, dynamics and the above-average resolution will not pass by them indifferently. Especially given their looks, workmanship and reasonable price. Because some aspects of the sound are at the level of more expensive loudspeakers than the new TAGA Harmony floorstanders.

For instance it is the case with the clarity of sound. It really makes an impression - the loudspeakers play in a very clear and transparent way, as if nothing bothers us in the reception of even those quieter and more subtle sounds. Everything is drawn very clearly, the sounds are like polished, almost sparkling and shimmering. This is really a level known not from budget speakers but the middle class.”

Summary

“These loudspeakers play very vividly, airy and clearly. TAGA Harmony Platinum F-100 v.3 take the listener on an edgy journey like a sports car. It is fast, stiff, very dynamic, with emotions. Do not look for softness, warmth or timbre sophistication in them, but instead you will find a lot of rhythm and good fun. They deal with sound space on an average level. They are excellently made and well priced. Worth listening.”
